ANNUAL REPORT 2020 | www.rswr.org

“Let Us Then See What Love Can Do.”

– WILLIAM PENN, 17TH CENTURY QUAKER

This year has drawn me into new ways of being. I am being called to see with new eyes – to look at what is, without illusion; to embrace the unknown with an open heart; and to discover new ways of being together that are kind and compassionate.

I look to Spirit for guidance, as I broaden my perspectives and modify behaviors that have supported me in the past – but no longer do. Things that were often the backdrop of daily life – health, nature, mobility, human relationships, access to resources – have come to center stage, as I reimagine how to live in community with my family, neighbors, countries, and the world. Do I have the courage to listen and follow Spirit when I can't see what lies ahead?

The call to right relationship is a spiritual call to listen deeply in the present moment – a call to recognize what we have to give, and to recognize that which we receive. What is essential? What do I truly need? How is the comfort I experience in my life at the cost of someone else's discomfort? The work we do as Right Sharing of World Resources is all about right relationship. It is a balance of inward reflection with integrity in our actions.

“THE WORK WE DO AS RIGHT SHARING OF WORLD RESOURCES IS ALL ABOUT RIGHT RELATIONSHIP. IT IS A BALANCE OF INWARD REFLECTION WITH INTEGRITY IN OUR ACTIONS.”

This year, as board members reflect on right relationship and begin strategic planning, we are exploring how our worldview impacts our programs. How does our shared history of colonization and the system of Empire influence our attitudes and affect RSWR partnerships in India, Kenya and Sierra Leone?

As we step into our unknown future together, thank you for being on this journey with us. Together we are transforming lives.

With God's Abundant Love,

Jackie

Profiles from Right Sharing

IN MEMORY OF EARL WALKER

Right Sharing honors the life and legacy of EARL WALKER, who was the shepherd of the stamp ministry from 2009 to 2017. Earl passed away September 22, 2020. He called his program Quaker Missions West and ran it entirely by himself, often spending 20 hours a week dedicated to the work. He loved the ministry and would call the stamp donors on the phone to chat. As an extrovert and people person, Earl is remembered for his kindness, patience, and open nature.

Lotan Migaliza

NEW BOOK!

We are excited to announce that Lotan Migaliza, RSWR's Business Management trainer in Kenya, has written a book. It is titled Rural Women's Entrepreneurship and Microfinance – Lessons on Household Development Strategies from Vihiga County Kenya. The book details learnings from Lotan's work with our women partners and explains factors vital to the success of micro-enterprises. If you would like a copy of the book for your Meeting or for educational purposes, please reach out to Maggie at emaggie42@rswr.org.

Highlights from Fiscal Year 2020

The Wang'bondo self-help group in Kenya distributed emergency food aid and supplies to their members in response to the corona virus lockdowns. Judith Omolo, in the black mask, is a member with HIV/AIDS. With funds given to her by RSWR, she was able to expand her village food kiosk.

1 The board approved funding to 41 groups of women: 20 in India, 10 in Kenya, and 11 in Sierra Leone. In FY 2020, Right Sharing grants helped change the lives of 1,101 women: 574 in India, 237 in Kenya, and 290 in Sierra Leone. However, the actual number is much larger because the projects will continue to revolve funds. Furthermore, a loan from an RSWR group transforms the life not only of the woman who receives it, but of her family and community as well.

2 The first international RSWR Field Representative Consultation was held in Indianapolis, IN in conjunction with the RSWR fall board meeting. Field Reps and Trainers formed lasting bonds with each other, US staff and board members. They shared best practices and challenges in each of their country's programs, and considered the future of RSWR. Afterwards they traveled throughout the US visiting with Friends Meetings and partners.

COVID trainings included hand-washing techniques.

4 The India Field Team learned to use digital meeting technologies to train NGO leaders and to communicate with women leaders.

5 Right Sharing visited many 2020 Friends' Annual Sessions virtually. RSWR General Secretary Jackie Stillwell attended the FGC Gathering as well as IMYM, PacificYM, NPYM, NYYM, WesternYM, LEYM, and NEYM. In addition to leading "The Power of Enough" workshop at the FGC Gathering, Jackie was able to share mini workshops with over 200 Friends at other yearly meeting sessions. If you would like her to visit with your Meeting to talk about The Power of Enough or our programs overseas, please contact her at rswr@rswr.org.

3 RSWR responded to global Covid-19 lockdowns with Emergency Food Aid. To-date, 1,862 women have shared the food aid they received with their families and communities. When our partners requested funding for trainings and sanitation supplies to respond to the pandemic, Covid-19 trainings were added to basic business training in all 3 countries. These included classes on social distancing and hand-washing while the women's groups distributed masks and soap.

mini workshops with over 200 Friends at other yearly meeting sessions. If you would like her to visit with your Meeting to talk about The Power of Enough or our programs overseas, please contact her at rswr@rswr.org.

6 The first year of the Challenge Match welcomed 184 new donors into the Right Sharing family. The additional contributions of $193,092 provided increased support for overseas Programs and urgently needed Food Aid.
